The letter of the week was "W". The children are becoming so independent with their letter page. It's amazing to see how their fine motor skills have progressed this year. The Pre-K students used play-doh to make a "W". We enjoyed the weather and went for a walk and counted wheels on cars to the number 10. The children enjoyed a ride in a wagon.

All of the Pre-K children can state the first letter in their name and some can spell their name. We went for a name search throughout the school. The children had to find a hand with their name on it.

The children listened to a story about God creating all of us. In the story the boy learned to take care of himself because God created him.
